Introduction

Welcome to your lunar return and monthly cycle outlook. It's a window on personal developments and opportunities, and a tool to get more effectively tuned in to your important monthly rhythms, and to some longer-range ones as well. Here's an overview of how it works and how to use it:

There are three primary cosmic rhythms that most affect individual life and destiny:

1. The daily wake/sleep cycle, driven by Earth's rotation...
2. The yearly cycle of the seasons, determined by Earth's orbit around the Sun, and...
3. The monthly cycle of lunar rhythms that pulse and accentuate our schedules of work and play, driven by the Moon's passage around Earth.

Of these, the most complex and yet easiest to track and use as a daily guide is the Moon's. As we go through its 27 1/2 day period, it paints a rhythmic kaleidoscope of the ups and downs of the individual segments of our lives, including emotional highs and lows, energy peaks and troughs, financial crests and valleys, together with alternating periods of mental focus, elation/depression, sexual arousal, career accomplishment, social standing, popularity, partnership success, health, and creativity. Most of what we consider to be the general "ups and downs" of daily life are simply our individual personal areas of sensitivity being pumped by the Moon in a monthly rhythm that is unique to each one of us.

Repeating Cycles: The Monthly Ride

Individually, it's conveniently predictable, as each cycle repeats in the same order each month, though on slightly different days, and if you know when your peak cycles are coming, you can plan for it and ride them like the waves they are as far as they will take you. And, when the wave is past, you can rest and avoid fighting the tide as it goes out, until the next one comes along to pick you up. Just check your calendar, wait for the incoming wave/tide, and then ride – that's all it takes.

Astrologically, these waves coincide with when the Moon passes over your individual birth planets and houses once each month, giving the areas of life concerning each a temporary boost, then bottoming out two weeks later. Keep an eye on it and follow its rolling repeats for just a few months, and you'll always want to stay consciously plugged into it. It becomes like pumping a swing in the playground, you just go higher and higher with only a little timed input on your part.

The Changing Monthly Overview – the Lunar Return on the spot where you are (and where you are then is important, too), called a lunar return. By looking at that chart, you get an idea of the style, priorities, and general feeling of the month to come, until it expires and the next month's lunar return supplants it. Underneath, like the humming engine under an automobile hood, the same rolling lunar beat goes on, but with a new style and body design to show off each time – one month a sedan, the next an SUV, then a utility wagon, then a sports car, maybe even a racing vehicle, depending on what's uniquely happening in the sky, never the same twice.

Change Your Month, Change Yourself

It's always a treat to see what you're going to be riding in next month, but unlike most other astrological arenas where you're stuck with what you get, if you don't like the model, you can change it, simply by going someplace else for the day of your lunar return (solar returns, or yearly birthday charts, work the same way). Traveling even just a hundred miles or so, in some cases, can change the all-important ascending and culminating signs and move critical planets to other houses that will give you a radically different look and style for the month (though it won't change the chassis, or the engine beneath) – it's all up to you.

This report looks at both takes on your coming month, first the part that changes and is full of surprises to field and take advantage of, and second the regular rhythms that drive you from beneath, reinforcing your beat and direction, where you need to mind the music and the step if you want to maximize the best possible results, increasingly, from month to month.

The Void-of-Course Moon

There is a period of time every couple of days when the transiting Moon has made its last aspect to another body in the sky before changing signs which is described as a Void-of-Course Moon period. It can last from a few minutes to over a day, depending how late in signs the planets are at the time. Because the Moon at this time doesn't really have its "feet on the ground," it is generally considered a period unfavorable for tangible decisions that require solid support, but an excellent time for insight, relaxation, and reaching outside of confining boundaries.

It's generally a bad time to make purchases, sign contracts, start major new ventures -- anything that you need to rely on down the line. Ordinary daily routine is OK, just not big moves, as outcome is often wild and unpredictable. Events already in operation at the time it begins often suddenly lose their footing and destabilize.

On the other hand, it's a great time to relax, party, get creative, and generally float free -- when what you want is the wild and unpredictable, a break from ordinary and sometimes confining stability.

Section 1. This Month's Style: Your Look and Feel

These are the most personal – and changeable – parts of your lunar return. It's about what you look like to others (Ascendant), your reputation and career view (Midheaven), inner personality (Sun), and feelings and emotions (Moon).

Ascendant

Your Ascendant this month, how you look, dress, what's in the mirror, what others see:

Ascendant in Libra

AS in ♎ [Rearrangement]

You can insert yourself into any state of affairs this month and alter the dynamics of the situation, so you may be called upon to do just that, settle others' issues, set things right, even when they already are.

Sun sextile Ascendant

☉ ✕ AS

[Clearly In Tune]

You look as good as you feel when you just take your image for granted and don't feel you have to primp to appear your best. Good looks flow from good feelings, and you've got plenty of both.

Moon trine Ascendant

☾ △ AS

[Singing In Tune]

You look simply marvelous, and feel like it, too. Better, it's effortless for the moment, doesn't require makeup or a new suit, because it's just you humming a song you know so well, from the inside out.

Saturn opposition Ascendant

♄ ☿ AS

[Weak In The Knees]

There's something undercutting your movements this month that makes it all too easy to lose your positive edge or actually weaken your moves. It could be attitude, but it could be physical.

Neptune square Ascendant

♆ ☐ AS

[Self-Uncertainty]

Others may be a bit confused with what they think they see in you this month, which may simply be an illusion of dress or makeup. Similarly, you may miss the mark while constructing your own façade.

Midheaven

Your Midheaven this month, what people are saying about you and thus your professional prospects:

Midheaven in Cancer

MC in ♋

[Know To Care]

Your caring side is on display this month, or at least talk about it is in the wind, so be willing to give some extra first-person time with those who try to make contact. You might wind up caring more than you thought.

Venus sextile Midheaven

♀ ✕ MC

[Easy Praise]

Wherever you are choosing to display your charms, it's getting traction among the public at large, without your having to do more than be yourself. It's a good plan, keep it up.

Mars square Midheaven

♂ □ MC

[Against The Wind]

Your best efforts may not be having the effect on your reputation you'd like, so perhaps you should point them elsewhere for the moment. Relax and float downstream, don't fight the wind.

Uranus opposition Midheaven

♃ ♀ MC

[Inconsistent Tales]

Contrary leaks about what you're up to can require patching or explaining, as one story won't seem to match another, even though they may all be part of a larger truth. Put out the public relations fires and move on.

Neptune opposition Midheaven

♆ ♀ MC

[Confusing Advertising]

Maybe you misrepresented yourself, or maybe you were misinterpreted, but there is some uncertainty about what exactly is going on with you in the air. Find and correct, as needed.

Pluto trine Midheaven

♇ △ MC

[Natural Dominance]

Word has it that you're naturally on top of what you do, so why bother to compete with you? And, why bother to contradict that welcome belief? Enjoy your status, don't rock your own boat.

Sun

Your Sun this month, how and where your inner personality shines forth:

Sun in the 10th house

☉ in 10th

[Limelight]

They're talking about you, and you want to take all possible advantage of what they say. Promote your achievements, or better, let yourself be endorsed and graciously receive kudos...

Sun opposition Moon

[Confidence Challenge]

Your self-image and your feelings may be in conflict, which can undercut your confidence and ability to respond, so avoid decisive situations if you can...resolution is the keyword for the month.

Sun opposition Jupiter

[Rolling And Tumbling]

Positive prospects can trip you up and get you out of balance, stumbling when it's too much, too soon. Overdoing it, or misdirected expansion, can waste good possibilities. Fools rush in, so don't be one.

Sun trine Saturn

[Experience Speaks]

You can lean back a little and enjoy a slower inner pace because you know you've got time and are on the right track. No rush, you'll get there, and in just the right time for the accomplishment you're expecting.

Sun square Pluto

[Inside Force Play]

You can get yourself into pointless power plays this month which only spin everyone's wheels, especially including yours. Don't waste the energy, wait for the currently-unlikely consensus, then proceed.

Moon

Your Moon this month, the mix of feelings and emotions that are especially on tap:

Moon in the 4th house

[Feeling Firm]

You will feel quietly secure when you know you're on solid ground and you share fundamental understandings at the most meaningful levels. Time to run silent, run deep.

Sun opposition Moon

[Confidence Challenge]

Your self-image and your feelings may be in conflict, which can undercut your confidence and ability to respond, so avoid decisive situations if you can...resolution is the keyword for the month.

Moon trine Mars

[Play It Like It Lays]

It's easy to intuit how to make your moves this month, as action flows from reaction like hand in glove. It makes you feel good about what you're doing, and do things that make you feel good.

Moon conjunct Jupiter

[Double Scoop Sundae]

An abundance of good feelings overflows with plenty enough to spread about to your surroundings. If you overdo it, however, later you may feel a little silly at the level of your enthusiasm.

Moon sextile Saturn

[Steady As You Go]

It's easy to feel stable right now, and even to be someone to lean on for those in a more shaky state of heart. Emotional peaks are compressed, so overreaction doesn't happen, and understatement becomes an art.

Moon square Pluto

[Emotional Power Plays]

It can feel like you're getting pushed around, even if you're the one doing the pushing, so when competition or jealousies close in, better to withdraw than get drawn in. Push and shove drives out love.

Section 2. Monthly Maneuvers: Your Goals and Action Plan

The inner "personal" planets Mercury, Venus, and Mars paint the way in which your plans (Mercury), desires (Venus), and actions (Mars) combine to set your daily table, get you what you want by setting your goals and making it all happen.

Mercury

Your Mercury this month, the way you organize your head, structure your intentions, communicate and network, tie it all together:

Mercury in the 11th house

☿ in 11th

[Stairway To Heaven]

Organizing your inner circle is the order of the month, and the better that's done, the higher you all climb, together. Share the plan, fuel the ambition.

Venus

Your Venus this month, your needs and desires, from love to food to money, what/who you are hot for and is hot for you:

Venus in the 12th house

♀ in 12th

[Hidden Desires]

The need to have things you maybe shouldn't could get you into trouble if you're not careful. But if you're clever, you can benefit from both front and back doors without anyone the wiser except yourself.

Venus trine Uranus

[The Cause That Refreshes]

New tastes, a leading-edge appetite, original design all make you someone who is exciting and enjoyable to pursue right now. You can turn oddity into celebrity, just by showing how easy it can be.

Venus trine Neptune

[Ideal Diet]

Whether it's love, money, or other pleasant objects of desire, fantasy becomes reality without a struggle because you don't try to force it, just let it happen. Imagine it, and there it is, in your hand.

Venus sextile Pluto

[Satisfaction Guaranteed]

If you're confident you'll get what you want, chances are you'll get it without a fight this month. Just lay back and let it happen, while fate provides. Stay open to the possibilities, and in they'll come.

Mars

Your Mars this month, your physical energy, actions, assertiveness, fuel and speedometer rating, the fire inside:

Mars in the 1st house

♂ in 1st

[Jump In The Game]

You're in the first with the most this month, and the challenge will be to stay in first place farther down the track. Energy is up-front, fired-up, and front-runner ready the moment the gates open.

Moon trine Mars

[Play It Like It Lays]

It's easy to intuit how to make your moves this month, as action flows from reaction like hand in glove. It makes you feel good about what you're doing, and do things that make you feel good.

Mars square Uranus

[Tumultuous Two-Step]

It's a minefield with no clear way out, explosions all around, more to come, so what do you do? Stop, sit down, and wait until the situation changes, the minesweeper comes and goes, and you quietly walk away unharmed.

Mars square Neptune

[Drained At The Pump]

No matter how much you fuel up, now the power just leaks away through mysterious cracks and crevices, draining detours, private pressures. Don't waste gas, switch off the ignition, try it again later.

Section 3. Opportunities: Opening Doors, Closing Windows

The middle (social) planets Jupiter and Saturn are about the opportunities and limitations set by your immediate social and financial environment, who's helping, who's not, what to invest wisely in and what's likely to bring you down. Jupiter tends to be the upside, Saturn the downside.

Jupiter

Your Jupiter this month, where opportunity knocks, big doings await, prosperity and good times await or elude:

Jupiter in the 4th house

♃ in 4th

[Palatial Underpinnings]

Your house is not just your home this month, it's your palace, or so you can make it appear simply by your pride in who you are and where you come from. Go ahead, show it off, you offer the best.

Sun opposition Jupiter

[Rolling And Tumbling]

Positive prospects can trip you up and get you out of balance, stumbling when it's too much, too soon. Overdoing it, or misdirected expansion, can waste good possibilities. Fools rush in, so don't be one.

Moon conjunct Jupiter

[Double Scoop Sundae]

An abundance of good feelings overflows with plenty enough to spread about to your surroundings. If you overdo it, however, later you may feel a little silly at the level of your enthusiasm.

Saturn

Your Saturn this month, surrounding situations which may hold you back or on a good day wisely keep you from overreaching.

Saturn in the 6th house

♄ in 6th

[Trim Ship]

A good time to cut back and simplify your schedule and cut out time-wasting activities that don't actually produce. Economy of motion is the key, how to accomplish the most with the simplest routine.

Sun trine Saturn

[Experience Speaks]

You can lean back a little and enjoy a slower inner pace because you know you've got time and are on the right track. No rush, you'll get there, and in just the right time for the accomplishment you're expecting.

Moon sextile Saturn

[Steady As You Go]

It's easy to feel stable right now, and even to be someone to lean on for those in a more shaky state of heart. Emotional peaks are compressed, so overreaction doesn't happen, and understatement becomes an art.

Section 4. Background Trends

The outer planets are the slow-movers you don't generally live to see come full circle, part of the larger picture of which your life is only a small part but which may be directly affecting you. The evolutions of national and world politics, economics, religious and moral trends, wars and migrations, boom times and depressions, all are out of your control, but they can control you, for better or worse.

Uranus

Your Uranus this month, what's shaking things up, unexpected change, shocks to your expectations, brilliant breakthroughs, sudden turnarounds, off the edge developments:

Uranus in the 4th house

[Stormy Castle]

If you're seeking quiet and security at home, this month may shock you, as that's where the surprises lie, which can destabilize or blow away tired presumptions, bringing in fresh air in a big gust.

Venus trine Uranus

[The Cause That Refreshes]

New tastes, a leading-edge appetite, original design all make you someone who is exciting and enjoyable to pursue right now. You can turn oddity into celebrity, just by showing how easy it can be.

Mars square Uranus

[Tumultuous Two-Step]

It's a minefield with no clear way out, explosions all around, more to come, so what do you do? Stop, sit down, and wait until the situation changes, the minesweeper comes and goes, and you quietly walk away unharmed.

Uranus sextile Pluto

[Rolling Destiny]

Between revolutions and periods of social upheaval there are times like this when society's gears seem like they're meshing nicely. Enjoy it, make the best of it, before the wheel turns yet again.

Neptune

Your Neptune this month, dreams and fantasies, hopeful and wishful thinking, the perhaps unattainable but desirable creative muse, always great and heady if you can get a piece, sometimes sad and confusing if you don't:

Neptune in the 3rd house

♆ in 3rd

[Mysterious Phrases]

The more you try to clear things up verbally or even on paper, the more ambiguous the conversation seems to get. The imagination soars, but it may not be reality, at least not until next month.

Venus trine Neptune

[Ideal Diet]

Whether it's love, money, or other pleasant objects of desire, fantasy becomes reality without a struggle because you don't try to force it, just let it happen. Imagine it, and there it is, in your hand.

Mars square Neptune

[Drained At The Pump]

No matter how much you fuel up, now the power just leaks away through mysterious cracks and crevices, draining detours, private pressures. Don't waste gas, switch off the ignition, try it again later.

Pluto

Your Pluto this month, ongoing forces of destiny or just naked power that can push you ahead or shove you down, regardless of how you handle it. Inside, it can be unaddressed needs that drive you, sometimes exciting and arousing, sometimes hurtful and unfair, always to be wary of:

Pluto in the 2nd house

♇ in 2nd

[Dictates Of Necessity]

Money tells the story this month, and it must be obeyed, as otherwise it will take no prisoners. The financial wedge is the deciding tool, in whatever dealing you're involved with, so use it wisely.

Sun square Pluto

[Inside Force Play]

You can get yourself into pointless power plays this month which only spin everyone's wheels, especially including yours. Don't waste the energy, wait for the currently-unlikely consensus, then proceed.

Moon square Pluto

[Emotional Power Plays]

It can feel like you're getting pushed around, even if you're the one doing the pushing, so when competition or jealousies close in, better to withdraw than get drawn in. Push and shove drives out love.

Venus sextile Pluto

[Satisfaction Guaranteed]

If you're confident you'll get what you want, chances are you'll get it without a fight this month. Just lay back and let it happen, while fate provides. Stay open to the possibilities, and in they'll come.

Uranus sextile Pluto

[Rolling Destiny]

Between revolutions and periods of social upheaval there are times like this when society's gears seem like they're meshing nicely. Enjoy it, make the best of it, before the wheel turns yet again.

Lunar Return Ascendant conjunct natal Midheaven

[Broadcast From Above]

Your in-person image is at one with your general reputation this month, kind of like being on camera where strangers get to see what you actually look like. No hiding place, so be true to yourself, and to your chosen script, without fail.

Lunar Return Sun conjunct natal Mars

[From Strength To Strength]

This month marks a yearly energy boost that allows you to push forward more strongly, on either physical or career levels. You can go farther and longer, and your eagerness level is up, so it's contagious.

Lunar Return Sun conjunct natal Uranus

[Worlds of Discovery]

This month highlights your more inventive side, so pay special attention to inspiration that comes in like a bolt from the blue. It could be a mental or emotional flash, or just something novel happening around you.

Lunar Return Mars conjunct natal Neptune

[Fire The Imagination]

A biennial surge sparks your creative urge and makes it possible for you to act on dormant dreams and fantasies that need attending. Letting sleeping dogs lie is like having no dogs at all, so wake them up.

Lunar Return Jupiter conjunct natal Moon

[Happy Feelings]

This month highlights a twelve-year cycle of emotional highs and expanding feelings of great possibilities and well-being. Everything immediately gets a positive spin, and that makes it happen that way.

Lunar Return Uranus conjunct natal Jupiter

[Wild Possibilities]

Your ability to develop new growth comes in surges, erratically, and your inspiration is to do it in unusual, perhaps even strange, directions. Follow your muse. What may seem weird at the moment may be the wave of the future.

Lunar Return Neptune conjunct natal Jupiter

[Ambiguous Ambition]

However big your plans, they could be bigger, and the pursuit of making them perfect beyond possibility can hamper getting them accomplished. Tightening your focus may be a challenge, but necessary this year.

Lunar Return Neptune conjunct natal Saturn

[Uncertain Certainty]

It may be hard to know what the rules are this year, as their sharp edges have lost their focus and formerly firm ground has gotten a bit soft. Falsehood seeks this soggy terrain, so be careful to be as true as possible, despite all.

The Daily News, All Month Long

Throughout the month, the rhythms of the planets highlight both the lunar return and your own natal birth chart. These give special qualities to each day, with opportunities and possible pitfalls to match. Some of these are one-shots which you'll never see again, others part of a monthly rhythm that you will see every month and should strive to get in tune to, to get ahead of the curve.

What you'll see here:

Transits to the lunar return planets and houses – these are small tweaks to your transient monthly style. They'll happen again next month, but on totally different days for a different lunar return. Worth a look, but won't come back to haunt you. Use them and forget them, like a handy but disposable tissue.

Lunar cycle rhythms of the natal chart planets and houses – these will come back every month (in the same order, with the same advice, in your next report), so note them carefully, get into tune with them, learn to plan and make room for them ahead of time. The better you know these, the more you'll be on top of and even ahead of yourself every month. Remember them.

New and full Moons, – these are the big, monthly tidal rhythms, the overall ebb and flow of intensity that affect not only you, but everybody, regardless, from ordinary mortals to would-be werewolves, vampires, and freelance lunatics.
